

biography

Larisa Mikhaylova

Editor, literary critic and translator

Ph.D. (Moscow State University 1982) and Fulbright professor (2005). Teaches World Literature of the 20th Century, History and Translation of Science Fiction and SF TV Series at Lomonosov Moscow State University. Larisa is also the Academic Secretary of the Russian Society of American Culture Studies and Chief Editor of science fiction magazine Supernova. F&SF (www.snovasf.com). Ms. Mikhaylova has been helping Mr. Salnikov in archival research, translating materials, conducting correspondence and coordinating the N-209 search project with American and Canadian team members since 2011.